TO MASSACHUSETTS CITIZENS.

In order that every one may become acquainted with the forest laws of Massachusetts the State Forester has compiled the various enactments in this small booklet.

It is believed that the recent enactments of our General Court (1907) will go very far towards forming a strong foundation for future accomplishments in our State forestry work.

If each town will do its full duty in seeing that a thoroughly competent, honest and public-spirited forest warden is appointed, and then give him due encouragement through financial assistance, good results are bound to follow. .

With a corps of 320 forest wardens (one in each town), besides those in the cities, each with an organized working force of deputies and public-spirited privates, the State Forester will have an army of men thoroughly enlisted in bettering our Bay State forestry conditions.

The State Forester's office (room 7, State House, Boston) is headquarters for a progressive forestry movement, and stands in readiness not only to assist the town forest wardens in outlining their work, but to answer inquiries of all Massachusetts citizens. The State also has made provisions, as per enclosed law (1904, chapter 409, section 2), to give aid and advice upon request to individuals having forest lands. The forester is giving as much time as practicable to the educational feature, and besides is publishing bulletins and other literature, as fire laws, etc. He delivers lectures and talks before all organizations likely to be interested in promoting forestry. He has given talks before the following organizations this year: Massachusetts Forestry Association, State Board of Agriculture, Pomona granges, Boards of Trade, Eastern Shook and Wooden Box Manufacturers' Association, schools and colleges, Women's clubs, Field and Forest Club, the New England Railroad Club, the Massachusetts and Worcester Horticultural societies, various farmers' clubs, local granges, civic clubs, improvement societies, etc.

There is great need of co-operation in order to get desired results. The enclosed laws it is believed offer a natural channel through which may flow beneficial results and great future good for this Commonwealth.

MASSACHUSETTS FOREST LAWS.¹

I.

The State Forester.

1904, 409, as amended, 1907, 473, sec. 1. The governor, with the advice and consent of the council, shall appoint an officer to be known as the state forester, who shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars. He shall be a trained forester who has had a technical education. He shall serve for the term of one year, unless removed for cause by the governor and council, or until his successor has been appointed and has qualified for office. The term of his office shall begin on the first day of July. The state forester shall be, ex officio, a member of the state board of agriculture.

Appoint-
etc.

¹ Laws relative to trees in the highways, streets, parks, and forests that border into the public thoroughfares are not included. While these laws are closely associated with and in some instances become forest laws it has been thought best to clearly designate them as the tree warden acts. See the so-called "Tree Warden Law," chap. 330, Acts of 1899; R. L., chap. 53, secs. 6 to 16.

1904, 409, sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the state forester to promote the perpetuation, extension and proper management of the forest lands of the Commonwealth, both public and private. He may upon suitable request give to any person owning or controlling forest lands aid or advice in the management thereof. He shall give such a course of instruction to the students of the Massachusetts Agricultural College on the art and science of forestry as may be arranged for by the trustees of the college and the forester; and shall perform such other duties from time to time as may be imposed upon him by the governor and council. The state forester shall have the right to publish the particulars and results of any examination or investigation made by him or his assistants as to any lands within the Commonwealth, and the advice given to any person who has applied for his aid or advice. Any recipient of such aid or advice shall be liable to the state forester for the necessary expenses of travel and subsistence incurred by him or his assistants. The state forester shall account for moneys received under this clause according to the provision of section five.

1904, 409, sec. 3. The state forester may establish and maintain a nursery for the propagation of forest tree seedlings on such lands as the trustees of the Massachusetts Agricultural College may set aside for that purpose on the college grounds at Amherst. Seedlings from this nursery shall be furnished to the Commonwealth without expense for use upon reservations set aside for the propagation of forest growth for other than park purposes. He may distribute seeds and seedlings to land-owners, citizens of the Commonwealth, under such conditions and restrictions as he may, subject to the approval of the governor and council, deem advisable.

May establish and maintain nursery, etc.

1904, 409, sec. 4. The state forester is hereby empowered, subject to the approval of the governor and council, to hire such assistants as he may need in the performance of his duties, and to fix their salaries.

May hire assistants.

1904, 409, sec. 5. The state forester shall annually, on or before the thirty-first day of December, make a written report to the general court of his proceedings for the year ending on the thirty-first day of December, together with such recommendations as he may deem proper, and with a detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures incident to the administration of his office. His report shall be printed in the report of the state board of agriculture.

1904, 409, sec. 6, as amended, 1907, 473, sec. 2. Such sums as the general court shall authorize may be expended annually by the state forester, with the approval of the governor and council, in carrying out the provisions of this act.

Appropriations.

II.

Forest Wardens in Cities and Towns.

R. L. 32, sec. 16, as amended, 1907, 475, sec. 1. The mayor and aldermen in cities and the selectmen in towns shall annually, in March or April, appoint a forest warden, and they shall forthwith give notice of such appointment to the state forester. The appointment of a forest warden shall not take effect unless approved by the state forester, and when so approved notice of the appointment shall be given by the mayor and aldermen or by the selectmen to the person so appointed and approved.

Appointments.

Whoever having been duly appointed fails within seven days after the receipt of such notice to file with the city or town clerk his acceptance or refusal of the office shall, unless excused by the mayor and aldermen or by the selectmen, forfeit ten dollars. Nothing in this act or in any other act shall be construed to prevent the offices of tree warden, selectman, chief of fire department and forest warden from being held by the same person.

1907, 475, sec. 2. The forest warden shall take precautions to prevent the spread of forest fires and the improper kindling thereof, and shall have sole charge of their extinguishment. He shall investigate the causes and extent of forest fires and the injury done thereby, the values of forest lands, the character and extent of wood-cutting operations, the prevalence of insect pests injurious to forest growth, and other matters affecting the extent and condition of woodlands in his city or town, and shall report thereon to the state forester at such times and in such form as the state forester may require. He shall also post in suitable places in the city or town such warnings against the setting of forest fires and statements of the law relat-by them in making investigations under his direction according to the provisions of section two of this act: provided, that the state forester shall not be liable to make any such payment except upon the presentation of a duly itemized account, or to pay for such investigations at a rate greater than that of thirty-five cents an hour, or in excess of the appropriation available for such payment.

1907, 475, sec. 5. The officials designated as "firewards" or "forest firewards," in chapter thirty-two of the Revised Laws shall hereafter be called Forest Replace firewards. Wardens.

1907, 475, sec. 6. Forest wardens, their deputies and assistants shall not be liable for trespass while acting in the reasonable performance of their duties.¹ Not liable for trespass.

1907, 475, sec. 7. Whoever wilfully and maliciously tears down or destroys any notice posted under the provisions of section two of this act shall be Disturbing notices. punished by a fine of ten dollars.

expenses of his office expend a sum not exceeding two thousand dollars in making necessary arrangements for conventions of forest wardens and in paying wholly or in part the travelling expenses to and from their towns of such forest wardens as attend this convention: provided, that no moneys shall be expended under authority of this section in paying the travelling expenses of any one warden to or from more than one convention in any one year; and provided, further, that said conventions shall be held at a place within the Commonwealth.

1907, 475, sec. 9. Forest firewards appointed under section sixteen of chapter thirty-two of the Revised Laws and foresters appointed under section fourteen of chapter fifty-three of the Revised Laws before the passage of this act shall between the time of its passage and the expiration of their terms of office perform the duties and have the powers of a forest warden as herein provided.

Powers of Forest Wardens in Fighting Fires and to call for Assistance.

R. L. 32, sec. 19, as amended, 1907, 475, sec. 5. If a fire occurs in woodland, two or more of the forest wardens of the town, or of a town containing Back fires in woodlands. woodland which is endangered by such fire, who are present at a place in immediate danger of being burned over, may set back fires and take all necessary precautions to prevent the spread of the fire.

R. L. 32, sec. 21. Whoever wilfully refuses or neglects, without sufficient cause, to assist, or to allow the use of his horses, wagons or other property as required by the preceding section, Penalty for refusing aid. shall, for each offence, be punished by a fine of not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars, to be equally divided between the complainant and the town, and may also be imprisoned for not more than sixty days.

R. L. 32, sec. 23. Payment shall be made to forest wardens, to their deputies, and to the persons assisting them, and for property used under their direction at a forest fire, at a rate prescribed by the town, or, in default of its action thereon, by the selectmen. No such payment shall be made until an itemized account, approved by the forest wardens under whose direction the work was done or assistance furnished, shall have been filed with the officer making payment.¹

Rate of pay- ment. Permission to set fires in the open necessary. R. L. 32, sec. 24. In a town which accepts the provisions of this section or has accepted the corresponding provisions of earlier laws, no fire shall be set in the open air between the first day of April and the first day of October, unless by the written permission of a forest warden. The forest warden shall cause public notice to be given of the provisions of this section, and shall enforce the same. Whoever violates the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, to be divided equally between the complainant and the town, or by imprisonment for not more than one month, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

R. L. 32, sec. 25. Money appropriated by a town under the provisions of section seventeen of chapter twenty-five, for the prevention of forest fires, and all fines received under the provisions of sections twenty-one, twenty-two and twenty-four of this chapter and section nine of chapter two hundred and eight shall be expended by the forest warden, under the supervision of the selectmen, in trimming brush out of wood roads, in preparing and preserving suitable lines for back fires or in other ways adapted to prevent or check the spread of fire; or such town may expend any portion of such money in taking in the name of the town such woodland as the selectmen, upon the recommendation of the forest warden, consider expedient for the purpose of preventing forest fires. Such taking and the payment of damages therefor or for injury to property, other than by fire or back fire, shall be governed by the laws relating to the taking of land for highways.¹

authorized.

IV.

Punishable Offences against Forest Lands.

R. L. 208, sec. 5. Whoever wilfully and maliciously burns or otherwise destroys or injures a pile or parcel of wood, boards, timber or other lumber, or any fence, bars or gate, or a stack of grain, hay or other vegetable product, or any vegetable product severed from the soil and not stacked, or any standing tree, grain, grass or other standing product of the soil, or the soil itself, of another, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars and imprisonment in jail for not more than one year.

R. L. 208, sec. 7. Whoever by wantonly or recklessly setting fire to any material causes injury to, or the destruction of, any growing or standing wood of another shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months.

R. L. 208, sec. 8. Whoever wilfully or without reasonable care sets fire upon land of another whereby the property of another is injured, or whoever negligently or wilfully suffers any fire upon his own land to extend beyond the limits thereof, whereby the woods or property of another are injured, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars.

R. L. 208, sec. 9. Whoever in a town which accepts the provisions of this section, or has accepted the corresponding provisions of earlier laws, sets a fire on land which is not owned or controlled by him and before leaving the same neglects to entirely extinguish such fire, or whoever wilfully or negligently suffers a fire upon his own land to escape beyond the limits thereof to the injury of another, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in jail for not more than one month, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and shall also be liable for all damages caused thereby. Such fine shall be equally divided between the complainant and the town.

R. L. 208, sec. 99, as amended, 1904, 444, sec. 1. Whoever wilfully cuts down or destroys timber or wood standing or growing on the land of another, in the act of wilfully injuring a fruit or forest tree or of committing any kind of malicious mischief on the Lord's day may be arrested without a warrant by a sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, watchman, police officer or other person, and detained in jail or otherwise until a complaint can be made against him for the offence and he be taken upon a warrant issued upon such complaint; but such detention without warrant shall not continue more than twenty-four hours.

1907 ; 299. The commissioners on fisheries and game and their duly authorized deputies may arrest without a warrant any person found in the act of unlawfully setting a fire. Said commissioners and their deputies may require assistance according to the provisions of section twenty of chapter thirty-two of the Revised Laws, and they shall take precautions to prevent the progress of forest fires, or the improper kindling thereof, and upon the discovery of any such fire shall immediately summon the necessary assistance, and notify the forest fireward of the town.

V.

Exemplary Damages for injuring Timber and Special Liability of Railroads.

R. L. 185, sec. 7. A person who without license wilfully cuts down, carries away, girdles or otherwise destroys any trees, timber, wood or underwood on the land of another shall be liable to the owner in an action of tort for three times the amount of the damages assessed therefor; Treble damages for wilfully cutting, etc. but if it is found that the defendant had good reason to believe that the land on which the trespass was committed was his own or that he was otherwise lawfully authorized to do the acts complained of, he shall be liable for single damages only.¹

R. L. 111, sec. 270. Every railroad corporation and street railway company shall be liable in damages to a person or corporation whose buildings or other property may be injured by fire communicated by its locomotive engines, and shall have an insurable in- Railroads liable for fire and may procure insurance.

terest in the property upon its route for which it may be so held liable, and may procure insurance thereon in its own behalf. If it is held liable in damages, it shall be entitled to the benefit of any insurance effected upon such property by the owner thereof, less the cost of premium and expense of recovery. The money received as insurance shall be deducted from the damages, if recovered before they are assessed; and if not so recovered, the policy of insurance shall be assigned to the corporation which is held liable in damages, and it may maintain an action thereon.

VI.

Land adjoining Railroads and Powers and Duties of Railroads.

1907, 431, sec. 1. Every corporation operating a steam railroad within this Commonwealth shall, subject to the Spark-arrester. approval of the board of railroad commissioners, install and maintain a spark-arrester on every engine in its service in which wood, coke or coal is used as fuel, and shall, between the first day of April and the first day of December in each year, keep the full width of all of its locations over which such engines are operated, to a point two hundred feet distant from the centre line on each side thereof, clear of dead leaves, dead grass, dry bush or other inflammable material, and shall not at any time leave any deposit of fire, hot ashes or live coals upon its locations in the immediate vicinity of woodlands or grass lands, and shall post in stations and other conspicuous places within its location and right of way such notices and warning placards as are furnished to it for the purpose by the state forester: provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit any railroad corporation from piling or keeping upon its location or right of way cross-ties or other material necessary for the maintenance and operation of its railroad.

1907, 431, sec. 2. Any railroad corporation may, upon giving notice according to the provisions of this section, enter upon unimproved land adjoining any location, or right of way upon which it operates engines burning wood, coke or coal, and may there at its own expense and subject to the direction of the forest warden, or the officer or board having his powers, in the city or town in which the land is situated,

R. L. 28, sec. 23. A town, by a vote of two-thirds of the legal voters present and voting at a town meeting, or a city in which the city council consists of two branches, by a vote of two-thirds of the members of each branch, and a city in which there is a single legislative board, by a vote of two-thirds of the members thereof, present and voting thereon, may take or purchase land within their limits, which shall be a public domain, and may appropriate money and accept gifts of money and land therefor. Such public domain shall be devoted to the culture of forest trees, or to the preservation of the water supply of such city or town and the title thereto shall vest in the Commonwealth for the benefit of the city or town in which it lies.

R. L. 28, sec. 24. A description of the land taken sufficiently accurate for its identification, shall within sixty days after such taking, be filed by such city or town in the registry of deeds for the county or district in which the land is situated and shall be recorded therein. Damages occasioned by such taking may be recovered as provided in the case of the taking of land for a highway.

Gypsy Moth and Insect Pests.

1905, 381, sec. 1. For the purposes of this act the pupæ, nests, eggs and caterpillars of the gypsy and brown tail moths and said moths are hereby declared public nuisances, and their suppression is authorized and required; but no owner or occupant of an estate infested by such nuisance shall by reason thereof be liable to an action, civil or criminal, except to the extent and in the manner and form herein set forth.

1905, 381, sec. 2. The governor, by and with the consent of the council, shall appoint a superintendent for suppressing the gypsy and brown tail moths and shall determine his salary. Superintendent, appointment, salary, etc. The governor may, with the consent of the council, remove said superintendent at any time for such cause as he shall deem sufficient. In case of the death, removal or resignation of the superintendent the governor shall forthwith appoint a successor. Annual report. On or before the third Wednesday in January in each year the superintendent shall make a report of his proceedings to the general court, which shall be a public document and shall be printed. Said report shall separate so far as is practicable the expenditures on work against the gypsy moth from those on work against the brown tail moth in each city and town.

1905, 381, sec. 3, as amended, 1906, 268, sec. 1. The said superintendent shall act for the Commonwealth in suppressing said moths as public nuisances, in accordance with the provisions of this act. Powers and duties. For this purpose he shall establish an office and keep a record of his doings and of his receipts and expenditures, and may, subject to the approval of the governor, make rules and regulations governing all operations by cities, towns or individuals under this act. He may employ such clerks, assistants and agents, including expert advisers and inspectors, as he may deem necessary and as shall be approved by the governor. He may make contracts on behalf of the Commonwealth; may act in co-operation with any person, persons, corporation or corporations, including other states, the United States or foreign governments; may conduct investigations and accumulate and distribute information concerning said moths; may devise, use and require all other lawful means of suppressing or preventing said moths; may lease real estate when he deems it necessary, and, with the approval of the board in charge, may use any real or personal property of the Commonwealth; may at all times enter upon the land of the Commonwealth or of a municipality, corporation, or other owner or owners, and may use all reasonable means in carrying out the purposes of this act; and, in the undertakings aforesaid, may, in accordance with the provisions of this act, expend the funds appropriated or donated therefor; but no expenditure shall be made or liability incurred in excess of such appropriations and donations.

1905, 381, sec. 4, as amended, 1907, 521, sec. 1. Cities and towns by such public officer

Cities and towns to destroy eggs, nests, etc., within their limits, except, etc. or board as they shall designate or appoint, shall, under the advice and general direction of said superintendent, destroy the eggs, caterpillars, pupæ and nests of the gypsy and brown tail moths within their limits, except in parks and other property under the control of the Commonwealth, and except in private property, save as otherwise provided herein. When any city or town shall have expended within its limits city or town funds to an amount in excess of five thousand dollars in any one fiscal year, in suppressing gypsy or brown tail moths, the Commonwealth

Commonwealth to the extent of eighty per cent of the amount expended by such cities or towns of city or town funds in suppressing the gypsy and brown tail moths in any one fiscal year, in excess of said one twenty-fifth of one per cent.

In the case of towns where the assessed valuation of real and personal property is less than six million dollars, after they have expended in any one fiscal year town funds to an amount equal to one twenty-fifth of one per cent of their assessed valuation of real and personal property, the Commonwealth shall expend within the limits of such towns, for the purpose of suppressing the gypsy and brown tail moths, such an amount in addition as the superintendent with the advice and consent of the governor shall recommend. The Commonwealth shall reimburse cities and towns every sixty days according to the provisions of this act.

Commonwealth to make expenditures within limits of certain towns.

ernor, shall prescribe: provided, that no city or town where the assessed valuation of real and personal property exceeds six million dollars shall be required to expend, exclusive of any reimbursement received from the Commonwealth, during any one full year more than one fifteenth of one per cent of such valuation, and that no town where the assessed valuation of real and personal property is less than six million dollars shall be required to expend, exclusive of any reimbursement received from the Commonwealth, during any one full year more than one twenty-fifth of one per cent of such valuation. For the purposes of this section the valuation of each previous year shall be used.

Any city or town failing to comply with the directions of the said superintendent in the performance of said work within the date specified by him shall pay a fine of one hundred dollars a day for failure so to do; said fine to be collected by information brought by the attorney-general in the supreme judicial court for Suffolk county.

sent of the governor, may initiate or continue the work of suppressing the moths within the limits of such city or town for such a period as the superintendent may deem necessary. The cost of such work, including that done on private estates, less any sum due from the state by way of reimbursements on account of said work, shall be certified by the superintendent to the treasurer of the Commonwealth, and be collected by him as an additional state tax upon the city or town so failing to comply with the requirements of the law. The superintendent may also in case of emergency, subject to the approval of the governor, carry on wholly or in part such operations as may be necessary to check the spreading of the gypsy or brown tail moth in parks not under the control of the Commonwealth, and in cemeteries, woodlands and other places of public resort. The amount to be so expended in any one year shall not exceed ten per cent of the appropriations made for the year by the state for the purpose of suppressing said moths.

Expenditures not to exceed ten per cent of annual State appropriations.

1905, 381, sec. 6, as amended, 1906, 268, sec. 4. The mayor of every city and the selectmen of every town shall, on or before the first day of November in each year, and at such other times as he or they shall see fit, or as the state superintendent may order, cause a notice to be sent to the owner or owners, so far as can be ascertained, of every parcel of land therein which is infested with said moths ; or, if such notification appears to be impracticable, then by posting such notice on said parcels of land, requiring that the eggs, caterpillars, pupæ and nests of said moths shall be destroyed within a time specified in the notice.

Cities and towns to notify owners of land to destroy nests, etc.

When, in the opinion of the mayor or selectmen, the cost of destroying such eggs, caterpillars, pupæ and nests on lands contiguous and held under one ownership in a city or town shall exceed one half of one per cent of the assessed value of said lands, then a part of said premises on which said eggs, caterpillars, pupæ or nests shall be destroyed may be designated in such notice, and such requirement shall not apply to the remainder of said premises. The mayor or selectmen may designate the manner in which such work shall be done, but all work done under this section shall be subject to the approval of the state superintendent.

If the owner or owners shall fail to destroy such eggs, caterpillars, pupæ or nests in accordance with the requirements of the said notice, then the city or town, acting by the public officer or board of such city or town designated or appointed as aforesaid, shall, subject to the approval of the said superintendent, destroy the same, and the amount actually expended thereon, not exceeding one half of one per cent of the assessed valuation of said lands, as heretofore specified in this section, shall be assessed upon the said lands; and such an amount in addition as shall be required shall be apportioned between the city or town and the Commonwealth in accordance with the provisions of section four of this act. The amounts to be assessed upon private estates as herein provided shall be assessed and collected, and shall be a lien on said estates, in the same manner and with the same effect as is provided in the case of assessments for street watering.

1905, 381, sec. 7, as amended, 1906, 268, sec. 5, and 1907, 521, sec. 3. If, in the opinion of the assessors of a city or town, any land therein has received, by reason of the abatement of said nuisances thereon by said superintendent or by said city or town, a special benefit beyond the general advantage to all land in the city or town, then the said assessors shall determine the value of such special benefit and shall assess the amount thereof upon said land: provided, that no such assessment on lands contiguous and held under one ownership shall exceed one half of one per cent of the assessed valuation of said lands; and provided, that the owner or owners shall have deducted from such assessment the amount paid and expended by them during the twelve months last preceding the date of such assessment toward abating the said nuisances on said lands, if, in the opinion of the assessors, such amount has been expended in good faith. Such assessment shall be a lien upon the land for three years from the first day of January next after the assessment has been made, and shall be collected under a warrant of the assessors to the collector of taxes of such city or town, in the manner and upon the terms and conditions and in the exercise of the powers
